

Some of the common worries or concerns many people have around coming out to others are:

- How can I tell my parents, children or partner?
- How will other people react?
- Who should I tell first?
- What if they take it badly?
- Will I be treated any differently?
- Will I be discriminated against at work?
- Will I ever be able to have children?

If you are experiencing any or all of the above worries or concerns you are most certainly not alone.

IT'S DARK IN THE CLOSET ISN'T IT?

Being lesbian, gay, bisexual or trans. isn't always easy outline Registered charity: 1080970

Being gay, bi or trans.
isn't always easy,
particularly at the beginning.

The first step for many people is to come out to themselves and accept and be comfortable with who they are and how they feel.

This can take some time and for some can be very confusing and stressful.

If you would like to talk through these or any other issues affecting you around your sexuality or gender identity, call or e-mail Outline in the strictest of confidence.

All Outline's trained volunteers have been through a coming out process and will be able to talk through your feelings in the

the way out

Volunteer opportunities are currently available.

Outline is the only
information and advice
line for lesbian, gay, bisexual and trans people in Surrey and we are looking for your help.

The helpline is based in Woking, Surrey and operates on Tuesday and Sunday evenings between 7:30 and 10:00pm.

No experience is necessary as free training will be provided to all our volunteers.

We accept applications all year round.
